

Duane Still

SVP, Finance Systems and Chief Financial Officer

Duane Still and his team are responsible for providing the necessary controls for CSM to best manage its business.

Joining CSM in 2014, Duane has more than 30 years of consumer products industry experience in key finance areas including strategy, acquisitions, accounting and audit. He has also overseen turnarounds, restructuring, merger integration and growth-stage businesses.

Duane has spent the majority of his career at Coca-Cola, where he served most recently as CFO of North America. He led finance and IT for the flagship North America business and Coca-Cola Refreshments (CCR). Duane played a lead role in the integration of the $13 billion CCR organization and led the acquisition and integration of Dannon's Spring Water business.

During his tenure at Coca-Cola, Duane had numerous other finance leadership roles including assignments in Europe, Asia and Middle East markets. In Turkey, he was a member of a leadership team that quadrupled the business of Coca-Cola Southern Eurasia in four years through organic growth and international expansion. As VP of Finance for Coca-Cola China, he helped restore the business to profitable growth and oversaw the restructuring of the strategic Shanghai Bottler. In Coca-Cola's U.S. Foodservice business, he helped restore the business to profitable growth while overseeing the operational restructuring of Coca-Cola's flagship U.S. business.

A CPA by training, Duane earned his B.B.A. in Accounting from the University of Georgia.
